The brand new IVA-W505R – a multi-talent

CD, DVD, iPod, MP3 player, USB stick, rear view camera, Bluetooth sound from the mobile? With the new IVA-W505R mobile media station from Alpine, hifi and video aficionados are guaranteed not only total media diversity but also brilliant output quality. Just one of the numerous highlights is the generously proportioned 7" WVGA screen, which extends across almost the complete front of the double DIN unit. Not only its sheer size is impressive: its striking feature is the innovative LLC brightness adjustment, providing even more luscious colors and improved contrast. This has the advantage of optimizing film sequences that are particularly dark or light. The touch display is designed for intuitive operation and is further proof that diversity need not mean complexity: sophisticated menus ensure speedy and straightforward user prompting. The sound quality of the Alpine IVA-W505R is likewise second to none, whatever the medium used, thanks to the 4x50W internal amplifier power, the 24-bit d/a converter, and the IMPRINT upgrade capability.

Alpine IVA-D106R – the latest 1-DIN unit in the world of mobile media stations

First, second and third course: order the full menu in a posh restaurant and you will hardly be surprised to be handed a tidy bill! But, as Alpine proves with the new IVA-D106R mobile media station, this does not automatically apply to in-car entertainment. The 1-DIN unit provides a broad range of multimedia specialities. It plays DVDs and CDs in MP3, AAC, WMA and DivX formats and additionally enables the straightforward connection of an iPod Video via the Alpine Fullspeed interface. But the IVA-D106R not only looks good – it sounds good as well, with its 24-bit d/a converter and 4x50W (RMS) output power. Thanks to the three preamplifier outputs and the innovative Alpine Ai-Net bus, the system can easily be networked with other components, with the end result a full-scale mobile media system.
